

Welcome all Private Career Colleges and Schools

In the spirit of partnership with all the Private Career Colleges and Schools in these Regions, we have agreed that there is a need for a conference specifically for private career school owners, directors and financial aid administrators with the presentations by the Regional FSA of United States Department of Education, Consultants, Owners, Vendors and Private Career Personnel.

To remain eligible to offer Title IV aid, institutions must remain administratively responsible and financially capable. Many school owners may not fully realize the impact that the administration of Title IV aid has on the value of their company. Nor are they always able to accurately predict the impact the financial ratios from their financial statements may have on their school's participation in the Title IV aid programs.

To receive Title IV aid, a student must meet general student eligibility requirements. It is the job of the financial aid administrator to ensure that the applicant meets those criteria. No matter what the situation, each student's issues must be resolved before Title IV funds can be disbursed. This is sometimes a long and challenging process, even for the most experienced professionals.

To assist schools with these issues, Larry Prather & Associates will present the Region Private Career Colleges & Schools Workshop in the cities where the U.S.D.E. has their Regional Offices. These conferences will help answer some of the provocative questions, as well as address some of the more complex issues regarding school and student eligibility.

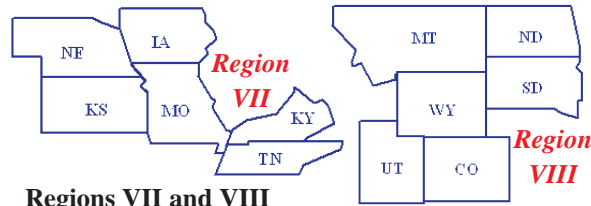

We invite all Private Career Schools to join us and a remarkable faculty of politicians, regulators, policy makers and industry leaders as we explore the relevant issues of today. More information and registration is available on our website.
