History

The Regional Private Career Colleges and Schools (PCCS) started in Kansas City, Missouri in the 1980's, has continued for the past 28 years and has expanded to Atlanta, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Larry Prather has been the Executive Director of PCCS with at least 15 to 20 supportive board members at each regional conference and professional presentation. The pictures are of the sponsors and exhibitors at the PCCS conferences.

The break-out sessions for PCCS will start on Monday at 8:00 am, therefore, the conference will be from Monday 8:00 am to 5:30 pm and Tuesday 8:00 am to 2:00 pm. We have developed more individual sessions, all day Monday and Tuesday. Please go to the website www.regionspccs.com for the agenda.

Financial aid administration is a highly legislated and regulated industry, and the rate of change is always increasing. Staying abreast of new regulatory developments, Congressional action, and ED interpretations is a basic job requirement. That's why it's amazing that training isn't always a top priority. Justifications for not sending financial aid staff to training events range from "Our institution just doesn't have the money," to "I don't have time to be out of the office," to "I can get all the information I need through e-mails and listservs." Beyond skill-building, training events are where we get to know each other and create the sense of community that is so important to helping financial aid administrators get their jobs done and remain motivated and inspired.
